DETAILED ACTION

In response to the amendment filed 01/26/2004 claims 1-16 have been cancelled; claims 18-22 are pending.

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the electronic library must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claim 17 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 2 of U.S. Patent No. 6,227,863 B1 in view of Ho et al (US 6,501,937 B1). The claims contain substantially identical imitations with the exception of the further limitations of:

An electronic library associated with the computer in which is digitally stored answers to commonly asked inquiries resulting from observation of images stored in the image library; and wherein said voice recognition unit recognizes distinct words and the sequence pattern of the at least on audible inquiry, thereby prompting the computer to scan the library to find at least one answer most closely related to the at least one audible inquiry and, when a match is found, presents said at least one answer to the child,

Which is present in claim 17 of the instant application. Ho et al teaches a learning system including a voice recognition system capable of searching a database of information for the most appropriate answer to a user question see col. 3:33-39, col. 5: 55-58 and col. 6: 10-14. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the question and answer functionality of Ho et al into the prior system so as to allow a user to learn through their ability to question subject matter presented to them, see Ho et al col. 1: 12-53.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 17-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 17, recites the limitation "said object" in section a(3) it is unclear as to whether this term refers back to the object in a(2) or a different one of the objects stored in the electronic dictionary or image library.

Claim 17 also recites "the library" is section c, it is unclear as to whether this phrase is intended to refer back to the electronic library of b or the image library of a(3). Claims 18-22 are rejected for their incorporation of the above through their dependencies.

Response to Arguments

Art Unit: 3713

- 4. The previous rejections of claims 1-16 under 35 USC §112, second paragraph, §102(e) and §103(a) have been rendered moot by applicant's cancellation of the claims. The examiner has separately addressed each of new claims 17-22 above.
- 5. The drawing objections of the previous office action have been withdrawn, however a new objection to the drawings is found above.
- 6. The applicant has stated the Ho et al reference (US 6501937 B1) is antedated by the parent cases filing date. When applicant files a continuation-in-part whose claims are not supported by the parent application, the effective filing date is the filing date of the child CIP. Since the limitations of the electronic library in which is stored answers to most commonly asked inquiries regarding an image and the voice recognition unit recognizing an audible inquiry regarding the image are not supported by either of the parent applications, the effective filing date of the instant application is 11/20/2001. Ho et al has a filing date of 07/02/1999 and is not disqualified as prior art under 35 USC §102(e). Further, the examiner notes that Ho et al has prior art claims to 12/02/1996, which pre-dates even the earliest of applicant's parent filing dates. The examiner has cited this application as being of interest.

Conclusion

- 7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
 - Asija (US 4270182) teaches a system in which the answers to frequently asked questions a. may be looked up based upon user inputs, including recognition through a voice recognition system
 - Ho et al (US 5836771) parent case of the above cited Ho et al reference b.
 - Siegel (US 5799267) teaches a system in which pictures of items are displayed along with their proper spellings.
